Future Cameron Growth Due With Hard Work, Expert Says

Dr. Stanley A. Arbingast, principal Chamber speaker Monday night, said that Cameron's growth can continue with new industry. He said hard work will boost Cameron's growth by bringing the means of growth industry.

The assistant director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research addressed about 250 Cameron C of C members, wives and guests at the annual Chamber banquet in Simon-George Hall.

E. A. Perrin, master of ceremonies, introduced Dr. Arbingast and other speakers for the program. Outgoing president Henry Siebman introduced 1958 president Hilliard Thomas, who in turn introduced first-vice president Leo Fuchs and second vice president Milton Schiller.

Dr. Arbingast listed Cameron's attractions for industrial growth that included:

1. Central location in the midst of Dallas-Houston-San Antonio industrial growth triangle
2. Agricultural and mineral resources.
3. Adequate rail and highway junctures.
4. Available labor supply.

Double Growth Seen

He pointed out that an Austin friend predicted Cameron's population will double between 1969-70, based on industrial growth potential.

"Some would blame the present administration for the downward turn of agriculture," Dr. Arbingast said, "but the death knell was sounded for agriculture with the invention of McCormick's reaper. Mechanization makes farming big business."

Continued growth of cities in Texas will be dependent upon continued industrial influx, he said.

He noted Milam County's population has grown 1,000 in recent years, stopping a 10,000 population reversal due to farmers' moving to cities from 1940 to 1950.

He alluded to the current recession in saying "that Texas has been living high on the hog the past several years. But continued growth will bring the nation and Texas back out of the decline."

"It is normal for a free economy like ours to have flucuations. We can expect the nation's economy to come out of it stronger than ever," Dr. Arbingast continued.

trial development. They included:

Can Get Industry

"Further industrial growth is inevitible in Cameron if you want to work for it," Dr. Arbingast concluded.

Henry Siebman, outgoing president, thanked the Chamber for its support. Ben Magness, 1957 McCullin Award winner, earlier presented Mrs. Dana Monroe with the 1958 award.

Vice-president Milton Schiller introduced visitors and guests that included representatives from area chambers of commerce eand various public utilities.

Indicted Trio Escape Jail

Three men who had been indicted by the Milam County Grand Jury Friday on burglary charges escaped from the Milam County jail in Cameron about 2 a.m Sunday morning.

The escapees are Clairel Vernon Huddleston, 23, Paul McKenzie, 29, and Edwin Holland, Bryan Negro, who is in his early twenties.

The three men escaped after breaking through a bar which had been filed through many years ago and repaired. Sheriff Carl Black said the soldering repair job was faulty and the men were able to dislodge the cell bar.

No trace of the men had been found Wednesday at noon, Black reported.

SF Freight Derails; 3 Crewmen Injured

Nine freight cars were destroyed by fire and three men injured in the derailment of a fast 13-car Santa Fe freight early Sunday near Cameron.

The wreck occured south of the bridge spanning Little River southeast of Cameron about 1:25 a.m. By 2 p.m. Sunday, less than 12 hours after the derailment, the main line was open to traffic.

The injured who were treated for burns about the body were A. B. Tores, 49, and J. W. Motherhead, 61, both of Fort Worth, and A. T. Gamble, 64 of Gainesville

None were considered in a serious condition at St. Edwards Hospital. All are members of an independent construction company crew.

The injured men were riding in an outfit car, used to house railroad construction crews, which caught fire. The three managed to escape from the burning car before it was engulfed by flames.

Most seriously injured was Gamble whose feet were badly burned by the fire that followed the derailment. All three suffered burns about the face and hands

Outfit Cars

Most of the cars involved in the wreck, the first major accident on the local division in a number of years, were outfit cars. Sources say the cars were being transferred from the Gulf Division of the Santa Fe to North Texas.

The Cameron fire department was summoned to the wreck scene just south of the Little River Bridge, but was unable to reach the fire because of the muddy conditions.

Some 1,000 feet of track were torn up by the derailment.

Sante Fe safety officials said that possibly a coupling came loose and dropped onto the track causing the pileup. The exact cause will not be known until investigations are complete.

Wreckage Removed

Work crews from Santa Fe in Temple were on the job by daylight Sunday removing the wreckage. Temple bulldozers helped rebuild the roadbed and new track was laid.

Two Cameron residents and two housewives from near Comanche died in a two-car auto crash about 4 p.m. February 19 on US 67 five miles east of Comanche.

State highway patrol officials said that Herman O. Hornung, 59, Cameron poultryman; Miss Betty Mae Thompson, 44, Cameron; and Mrs. Vernon F. Gaines, 50, Hasse community, died instantly in the two car collision

Patrol Officer Wilbur Long told a Herald reporter that Hornung's 1958 Chevrolet was apparently heading east on US 67 while the 1955 Ford driven by Mrs. Gaines was heading west toward Comanche. Miss Thompson was a passenger in the Hornung car.

He said the accident was still under investigation. Long noted that road conditions were slick under a misty fog that afternoon.

Both vehicles were almost total losses.

Funeral services for the Hasse victims were held at Comanche last week. Friday funeral services were held for Hornung and Miss Thompson.

It was believed that Hornung was heading for Stephenville at the time of the accident.

Officer Long said there were no eye witnesses to the accident.

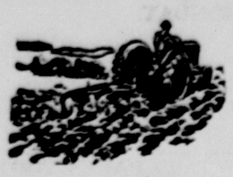
MILAM COUNTY'S

FARM SCENE



Farmers Plan Truck Crops

Freshly plowed fields in Milam county are an indication that truck crop planting is just around the corner, Milam County agent J. D. Moore reports.

Soil moisture conditions are very good, however conditions have been generally too cold and damp for general plowing, Moore said.

Oats for grazing made very little progress this week. The weather is too cold and the soil too damp and tight for beneficial growth of grains, Moore said.

Seed beds for corn and grain sorghum planting are well prepared, Moore said. Planting of these crops will not get into full swing before March, he added.

Livestock conditions remain good with most farmers and stockmen doing some supplemental feeding, the county agent said.

Costal Grass Shows High Production Of Quality Forage

Coastal bermuda grass definitely shows promise of being a high producer of good quality forage states Little River-San Gabriel Soil Conservation District cooperators, Volney Whittington of Vetas, A. J. Adamek, four miles southeast of Granger, Rudolph Zuehlke, five miles east of Bartlett, and C. B. Hodge of Salado.

These men represent a cross section of typical coastal bermuda grass growers in the Soil Conservation District, says Soil Conservation Service personnel in Bartlett. They represent coastal bermuda grass grown on waterways, abandoned cropland, and permanent pasture. In addition, these plantings are grown on different soils..deep soils, shallow soils, tight soils, open-matured soils, upland soils, bottomland soils, fine-textured soils and medium-textured soils.

Most of these plantings covered the ground in a period of from 60 to 90 days with runners as long as 15 feet in length. Forage produced was of high quality, although of coarser growth than common bermuda grass and was very palatable to livestock.

Average Yields

Weight yields per acre were erratic in that most of these plantings were established during a period of light rainfall followed by a dry period then another three months of light rainfall. Yields averaged from 2000 pounds per acre with no fertilizer to 19000 pounds per acre following a balanced fertilization program during a 90-day period following sodding or sprigging says SCS.

Sodding or sprigging is the best way of establishing a stand of coastal bermuda grass. This maybe done by hand or by means of a sprigging machine. A higher rate of survived cover and growth has been obtained when sodded or sprigged in a manner to leave part of the sprig or sod exposed.

Peaches

Fruit Growers Pick From New Types

By J. D. Moore
County Agent

The Elberta-type peaches are the best all-around peaches for Milam county producers, County Agent J. D. Moore pointed out this week.

Moore gives a brief description of peach varieties in the order in which they ripen. A producer will not want all these varieties but should have no problem in selecting several good varieties from the list, Moore said.

Hiland ripens one day earlier than Cardinal. It is a yellow-fleshed cling with lots of bright red. It requires only 750 cold hours to bloom.

Cardinal is another cling that is yellow-fleshed with plenty of bright red, considered one of the very best of the Dixie red type peaches. It ripens six weeks before the Elberta.

Dixie red is a medium-size yellow-fleshed cling with bright red skin. It is the South's biggest money-maker.

Maygold is a yellow cling attractively colored with light red over yellow ground color. Chilling requirement is only 650 hours.

Coronet is a yellow freestone. The fruit is medium-sized and has an attractive bright red color over yellow. The flesh is firm and smooth-textured.

Larger Fruit

Jerseyland sold under the name of Beauty Gem ripens just before Red Haven. It bears a heavier crop of larger fruit that is a bright red color.

Ranger ripens with Golden Jubilee, 50 percent red, large, and much like Elberta. It is excellent quality and will ship well.

Keystone is a yellow freestone, practically 100 percent red, and a good quality new variety.

Fairhaven, a good yellow freestone peach, is good for freezing, canning, local marketing, and commercial production.

Triogem ripens about three weeks before Elberta. The fruit is medium size and it is an attractively colored yellow freestone.

July Elberta ripens about two weeks before Elberta. Fruits are large, round, and free with a yellow flesh. It is a good commercial variety with short chilling requirements.

Halehaven, a yellow freestone, is large and round. It has been an outstanding variety for commercial planting.

Elberta has been the standard variety for commercial planting for many years. It is yellow fleshed, free, firm, and good quality.

Frank ripens in August. It is a good quality commercial variety and heavy producer.

By selecting earlier and later ripening varieties along with the Elbertas, one should have fruit ripening over a longer period of time.

The sun broke through the moisture-laden skies over Milam County this week. County farmers looked up, hoping that a month or so of sunshine was to come.

There was little question but that Cameron and vicinity was most rain drenched in its recent history.

If the rains subside, farmers can also look to the best spring growing season in recent years.

The optimistic but moist outlook was heartened by the news that more bales of cotton were ginned during the 1957-58 season than in 1956-57.

It follows that a better growing season in 1958 even with increased acreage in the soil bank could mean a good bale production on fewer acres cultivated.

Agriculture Stabilization & Conservation office figures show that Milam County had 10,100 acres in the soil bank in 1956, 8,385 in 1957 and about 21,000 in 1958. Optimum growing conditions could produce a better growing crop on the 40,000 acres left than 50,000 acres produced in 1956 during drouth.

Agricultural experts forsee a tremendous output of maize and truck crops this year. The maize crop in Milam County last year was tops while truck crops took it on the chin generally because of excessive moisture and washouts in April and May, 1957.

Of course cattle continue to sell at high prices that seem to be holding up. Grazing grass is probably at its all-time best in most parts of the county.

Who knows how strong the truck crop market would be if county farmers have bumper sales after the near-freeze out of citrus and truck crops in the Rio Grande Valley and Florida.

All tolled, the farm scene gives an optimist material with which to paint an optimistic picture. We choose to be optimists.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Sage Says 'Sputniks' Fail To Solve Russian Farm Problem

Dear editar:

I know it's customary these days to believe the Russians can do anything, they just press a button and order up a satellite, they can pause between two sips of vodka and send off a guided missile so accurate it could knock the braces off the corner post in any corner of my pasture out here, if they hadn't already fallen off on their own before it got here, etc., but while I never like to discount the power of the other fellow, still I've always had my doubts about some things in Russia.

For instance, doesn't Russia have a farm problem? I don't care how smart his own newspapers say he is, there never was a dictator so smart he could farm out in the open and never get wet, for example, or run out of gas, or blow a gasket, or have a flat.

Well, yesterday I was reading an article in a newspaper I found caught on a fence in my pasture. I don't suppose the publisher aimed it here that accurately, but it was lodged there, none the less... that bears out my suspicions about Russian farming.

According to it, the Russian government was having a little trouble with its grain farmers. As I understand the system, all the land belongs to the government over there, and a farmer has to work as many acres and as many hours as he's told to, and can keep only a small amount of the grain for his own use, the rest going to the government.

Well, that's the way the farmers have been farming, but it turns out most of them don't have room for much grain storage, so naturally they put their own grain in what barns or sheds they have, and carefully pile the government's share out in the open. And just when it came time for the government trucks to pick up the grain it started raining and the roads over there got muddy, since any dictator knows it's more important to conquer space than build roads, and the grain got rained on, and if you don't know what that does to grain, turn the faucet on a loaf of bread and see for yourself.

You don't have to go to Russia to know it has a farm problem, so long as farming is done out in the open.

What this proves to me is that while the farm problem may not be bigger than any political system, it'll last longer.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Lenten Season Begins On Ash Wednesday

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles pertaining to the Lenten Season and its observance with articles contributed by Cameron ministers.

By The Reverend Alfred Kallus
Assistant Pastor
St. Monica's Church

During this time of the year we hear mentioned the words, "lent," or the "lenten season." In advertisments we might hear the term "lenten foods." Today, a brief explanation might be beneficial because not too many people know what lent really is, since many Christians do not observe it.

Lent as we know it today preceeds Easter by forty days. Easter will vary from year to year and we invariably have to look at the calendar to see when it will fall. To determine the lenten season, simply count the days backward from Easter Sunday. Forty days back will be Ash Wednesday, the first day of lent. This year Ash Wednesday was on February 19.

The method of determining the date of Easter is by studying phases of the moon. Jesus Christ was put to death during a certain Jewish feast; this we know from the New Testament. (Luke 22:1). The Jews reckoned that feast by the moon, since they used only the lunar calendar. This has been our method of determining the date of Easter since the reign of Pope Victor I (189-199 A. D.), who is responsible for this decision. Easter still corresponds to that same Jewish feast today.

Lent has been observed by all Catholics since the very beginning of Christianity with very little variation, until we find it in its present form. Some Protestants also observe lent similiarly to Catholics.

Lent is a time of preparation. We are making ready for the greatest of all Christian feasts, Easter. Jesus Christ fasted for forty days before embarking on His great work of Preaching and working miracles and finally dying for our sins. (Matt. 4: 1). We also fast forty days to make ready for this great Christian festival. Truly great it is; for because of the death and resurrection of Christ, Christianity is what it is. Christians even worship on Sunday rather than Saturday in honor of Christ's resurrection, which was on Sunday morning.

During lent, a Catholic over twenty-one and under fifty-nine must observe the fast. This means that he can eat only one full meal a day. He may eat two smaller meals if he wishes (and usually does.) He is permitted to eat meat only once on such days. The sick are naturally excused from this and only those in good health are permitted to make this fast.

All, however, including children, are recommended to make some sort of personal sacrifice. This is usually in the form of denying oneself certain legitimate pleasures such as movies, dancing, smoking, sweets or any other form of pleasure or entertainment. This is not a must, but is merely recommended and is in keeping with the spirit of lent. Generally speaking all festivities are abandoned during lent. In addition to this, there are lenten services during the week that a person may attend.

Each year we all celebrate the birth of Christ with great rejoicing. Actually, most of us start rejoicing before Christmas Day is actually here. Each year also, we mourn with Christ on Good Friday because He had to die a cruel and shameful death.

Like Christmas, we start celebrating early; unlike Christmas, it is a time of sorrow. It is a time of sorrow because our sins are causing our Master these pains. Our Lord showed the greatest love for us because He died for us. "Greater love that this no man hath than a man lay down his life for his friend." We too can show a little love for our Saviour by laying down at least a few earthly pleasures for Him, for at least a short time.

Not My will ...but Thine!

Christianity does not offer escape from duty.

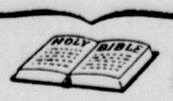
If it did, most of us would never find a seat in Church. The lazy and indifferent would be standing in line hours before we arrived.

Christianity does offer strength of purpose—the spiritual energy that transforms duty into achievement!

God's purpose and the courage to fulfill it—these the Church reveals and imparts.

In this pre-Easter season of Lent the attention of mankind is focused again on the Cross of Christ ... on His strength of purpose and all that He suffered for us ... on God's Victory for men.

Our churches call us to the Faith which makes difficulty a challenge—dread, a stepping-stone—despair, a memory.



THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mrs. O. B. Horstmann Suggests Molded Salad For Meal Variety

'asty, unusual salads add in- est, color and food value to ter meals.

Irs. O. B. Horstmann, 1306 N. nston, suggests one of her favor- molded salads which is nutri- s, delicious and especially tty when served on a bed of p salad greens.

Cottage Cheese Salad

Dissolve one package of lime atin and one package of lemon atin in one and one-half cups hot water and one-half cup of eapple juice drained from a all can of crushed pineapple. rigerate.

When gelatin mixture begins to ken, add one small can of shed pineapple, drained, one nd of cottage cheese (any type) cup mayonnaise, one cup un- ted evaporated milk, two tab- poons pure grated horseradish tional), two tablespoons lemon e, and one-half cup grated pe- s. Pour into salad mold which been rinsed in cold water, and rigerate until mixture sets.

Irs. Horstmann, who helps fre- ntly with civic suppers, says amount will make approxima- 18 generous servings.

A member of the Women's Society of Christian Service, Mrs. Horstmann found this recipe in a Dallas church cookbook.

For lettuce cups remove the lettuce core, hold the cored side up under running water and leaves will loosen. Slip leaves off and drain well before using. Proper washing, draining, and chilling of the lettuce gives it appetizing crispness.

Mrs. Horstmann points out that a serving of the salad with crackers is satisfying for a light meal. With the cheese, milk, fruit, and gelatin, the salad provides also part of the daily nutrients necessary for growth.

Gene Kirk Files For JP Office

F. E. "Gene" Kirk, 32, Cameron, has announced for the office of justice of the peace, Precinct 1, subject to the Democratic primary July 26.

A native of Cameron, Kirk graduated from Yoe High School and attended Durham's Business School, Austin.

Upon graduation he worked in the Cameron AAA office for a year before opening a retail feed business. He operated the feed business until 1950, then became general manager of Kirk Truck Lines, now his present position.

Kirk points out that his business experience and close association with law entorcement problems are his qualifications for the office of justice of the peace.

"This combination of experience and knowledge has helped me know that law enforcement requires judicial backing. I would lik ethe opportunity to serve as Precinct 1's justice of the peace," Kirk said.

"And I will be the same Gene Kirk after the election, win or lose," Kirk continued.

The votes and encouragement of voters in Precinct 1 will be greatly appreciated, Kirk concluded.

Little River Crests Above Flood Level

Milam's County's Little River crested to above flood stage early this week, but by Wednesday noon had subsided to below flood level.

Check of the water level Sunday showed a crest of 36.60 feet, six and one-half feet above flood level. Little River flood level is 30 feet, sources say.

By Wednesday morning, water level had subsided to 28.20 feet, less than two feet below flood level.

Rising Little River reminded Milam Countians of crop damage and swollen area waterways after almost two weeks of rain which sent Little River and tributaries well beyod the 30-foot flood level in April 1957.

Total rainfall for the month of February has been 4.07 inches with 3.57 inches during the week of February 16 - 22.

State and national newspapers carried stories of April's flood in Central Texas which was the worst since 1921.
